

June 18, 2021

Ref: SB21-13

International students travelling to Canada

International students travelling to Canada should observe the following requirements from the IRCC and the Consulate of Canada in Hong Kong, especially in deciding on the appropriate time to travel:

Sources: <https://www.canada.ca/en/immigration-refugees-citizenship/services/coronavirus-covid19/students.html>

"When you arrive in Canada

A border services officer (BSO) will make the final decision on whether you're eligible to enter Canada when you arrive. When the border services officer greets you, they consider

- your reason for travelling to Canada
- your ability to comply with all the mandatory COVID-19 requirements, unless you're exempt
- your ability to comply with your approved DLI's COVID-19 readiness plan
 - This may include a 14-day quarantine period.
- proof that you have enough money to support yourself and any family members who come with you to Canada
- whether you've completed an immigration medical examination if required and the results are still valid
- the timing of your arrival
 - You should give yourself enough time before school starts, to
 - complete the mandatory COVID-19 requirements
 - meet any requirements in your approved DLI's COVID-19 readiness plan
 - If you arrive too early, you may be refused entry by the BSO."

And the Facebook link:

Sources: <https://www.facebook.com/CanadainHKandMacao/posts/4478710955492270>

"Travel restrictions for international students 🇨🇦"

📢Reminder: International students can arrive in Canada up to 30 days before the program start date on your Proof of Acceptance (POA). If you arrive too early, you may be refused entry by border services officers. You should give yourself enough time before school starts to complete the mandatory COVID-19 entry and quarantine requirements.

14

For more information, please visit: <http://bit.ly/covid-19students>"

AIR CANADA

SALES BULLETIN

Disclaimer

As travel requirements continue to change quickly, this bulletin does not replace the specific information provided by government and other relevant authorities. While Air Canada makes best efforts to keep the information on this page updated, due to fast-changing government mandates and restrictions which may be affected by numerous factors (for example, point of origin, age, final destination, purpose or duration of travel, state of vaccination), as well as due to interpretation by the applicable local government officials, Air Canada is not responsible for the completeness and accuracy of this bulletin; neither Air Canada, nor any of its employees or agents may under any circumstances be held responsible or liable in any way for any claim, loss, damage, cost, expense or liability whatsoever that may result from your access to, or reliance on, information provided on this page. It is your responsibility to ensure that you meet all entry requirements and have all the valid travel documents necessary to enter in, exit from or transit through, each country/region on your itinerary regardless of if the flight is operated by Air Canada or another carrier. We strongly recommend that you contact the government of each country on your itinerary for detailed, up-to-date information on health, passport, visa, and other entry requirements applicable to your case, as they may vary based on country of nationality and other factors. The final determination of entry in or transit through is the decision of the government and officials of the country to which you are travelling.